

Tidings From Timothy

Our Men's breakfast went very well. I got full and we had a good meeting afterward. A report was given on the work in Harlan County and those brethren are doing well, they just need to keep working hard to find people willing to study the gospel over there. Many thanks to those who drove and to whoever paid for my eats.

This morning we will study on the New Birth in John 3. Tonight it is "Questions and Answers" as we deal with a half-dozen or more things that people ask about religion.

Meeting CDs: There should be enough audio CDs out front to take care of those who locally signed up for wanting one from our Gospel Meeting. Just mark out your name when you get your CD. After today, this audio CD will be available in the church library and over the internet at www.mtgileadchurch.net/sermons. I am now going to start burning videos of the other nights.

Singing: New Hope in Clay County has their annual singing this Friday night at 7pm. If you've never been to that one, you've missed some great singing and good eats as well.

Gospel Meeting: There is a meeting coming up at Rock Valley

In Need of Prayer: Sandra Pryor, 1st cousin to Morris Scott, has cancer in both lungs and will start treatment immediately. JD and Laura Key have not been doing well and JD has been in and out of the hospital. Randy Kerr, General Manager at WTKY, has been in the hospital and is being sent to specialist after a possible reaction.

Wrong is Always Wrong by Wayne Jackson

Sinful human beings are ever attempting to blur the distinction between "right" and "wrong." This inclination reaches far back into antiquity. The Book of Proverbs declares: "He that justifies the wicked, and he that condemns the righteous, both of them alike are an abomination unto Jehovah" (17:15). Later, the prophet Isaiah affirmed: "Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter!" (Isaiah 5:20). Amos spoke of those who "turn justice to wormwood, and cast down righteousness to the earth" (Amos 5:7). "Right" and "wrong" exist. They are not merely evolved inclinations that have been humanly contrived in order to introduce a sense of order and security into society. Nor are "right" and "wrong" subjectively determined so that, practically speaking, each person functions as his own law-maker. Rather, morality is to be measured by the laws and principles of divine revelation, as made known in the inspired writings of the Bible. Ultimately, morality is grounded in the very nature of God Himself. "[A]s he who calls you is holy, be ye yourselves also holy" (1 Peter 1:15). Though such a concept is almost wholly rejected by modern society, there is ample evidence to support it. "Right" and "wrong" are not grounded in what a majority of the population "feels" is ethical. Jesus Christ is a King; He has not implemented a democracy to determine, by majority vote, how human beings ought to live. Man can never be his own guide. "O Jehovah, I know that the way of man is not in himself; it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps" (Jeremiah 10:23).
