

When people have times of depression, they look for happiness. Happiness is often an elusive thing because they really don't know what it is they are looking for. Not only does God describe true happiness for us, but he knows how we can have it and keep it. Find out what God has to say about it this morning.

When the apostles were preaching, "House churches" were the norm. Church buildings as we know them came later after Constantine legalized Christianity. Assembling is important, the place we assemble is not.

Jesus taught in many places throughout His time on earth. In the open air, in villages, in the Synagogue, and on the "mount". It intrigues me that Jesus entered homes and in those homes great teaching was done. In the house of Peter and Andrew, in the home of Matthew with all those "sinners", in one home so crowded that the friends of a paralyzed man had to lower their friend through the roof. In homes were some of the most teachable moments of Jesus' ministry. Read Mark 3 ; Matthew 9:9-13 ; Luke 5:17-26 ; Luke 7:36-50.

I want you to imagine living as a Christian under the authority of Domitian, emperor of Rome. Domitian declared himself "Supreme Lord and God". He had a committee to enforce this declaration. To do business in the marketplace you must wear a stamp on your forehead declaring your allegiance to the emperor. Some of the Jews compromised their faith and gave such allegiance. Faithful Christians would not.

Now imagine yourself arising from sleep at 3:00 a.m. on the first day of the week. You're up early to gather with Christians. You arrive forlorn, and depressed from your week of living your faith in the midst of Domitian's evil rule. But, "at church" on this day John's Revelation is to be read. It's all good, but that section in what we now call Revelation 12 is especially encouraging. The woman, who gave birth to the "man-child" is victorious. So are all of her offspring who hold to the testimony of Jesus. The "dragon", who is the Devil, wreaks havoc on the faithful, but he is defeated. His final fate is a lake of fire. The assembly with the Christians on this day is pure blessing to your faith in Christ.

Christians of today need to envision the value of assembling ourselves together. Drag yourself to the assembly if you have to. If you participate, and think, and pray, and celebrate, and encourage, and allow yourself to be encouraged, you will walk away blessed!
