

Friends and Family Day: We appreciate all of you all being with us today. Please take a couple of pens as a gift from the congregation, and if you want an updated Birthday and Anniversary list you can get that out at the desk in the front. We are happy to celebrate 158 years of continuous existence and worship at the Mt. Gilead church of Christ. We are honored by your presence and want you to sign the register out front if you haven't already. Also, make sure to stay for our fellowship meal afterward and get (re)acquainted with everybody. Thanks for joining us today.

The morning sermon is on Faith from Hebrews 11. Please consider joining us tonight for our evening service at 6pm.

IN NEED OF PRAYER : Brenda Short has had back surgery. Wanda Biggerstaff continues to recover at home.

Parking Lot Update: They are doing some work on the parking lot due to some water drainage problems and the need to resurface. This project will not take long but may require you to watch your step in the back of the parking lot near the carport entrance.

Brotherhood events: A Gospel Meeting will be starting at Pine Hill in Clay county on September 6th and going through the 8th with Jack Honeycutt preaching. Singing begins at 6:30pm each night. I will be in a Meeting with Flat Rock church of Christ in TN beginning September 13. Our Meeting with David Hester will be coming up soon and there are advertisements out front.

Memorials: Heavenly Highway Hymns giant print songbooks have been donated to the Nursing Home in memory of Eula Isenberg, NevaNell High, Madie Kerr, and Lowell Branstetter. You can see these at the building today before they are transferred to the nursing home.

Why You May be Studying the Bible Wrong

I think one of the biggest problems we have today, and I am as guilty of it as anyone, is that we study our Bible wrong. We approach the Bible with the wrong questions, therefore we leave with the wrong answers.

The Right Bible Study Questions:

If we are going to get more out of our Bible study we must ask better questions. Here are some of the questions we need to be asking ourselves when we open His book.

1. Ask, "What am I doing wrong?" Unfortunately, most of us look to the Bible for comfort, and not correction. It isn't easy looking for sin in our lives, but that is one of the major purposes of studying God's word (2 Tim 3:16-17). Instead of looking for proof that we are right, let's start looking to see if we are wrong. Instead of looking at Scripture and finding everyone else's sins, let's start looking for our own.

2. Ask, "What am I not doing that I need to be doing?" Sin isn't just about doing things that are wrong; it is also about not doing things that are right (James 4:17). We will never improve our service to God unless we look to God's word to find out how we should improve. We are great at finding passages that prove what other people ought to be doing. Instead, let's start finding the passages that tell us what we ought to be doing.

3. Ask, "What is wrong with what I believe?" Sometimes I think I'm a whole lot like Saul of Tarsus; I need to be hit upside the head, before I will change the way I think. Don't be that way. Always be seeking a better understanding of God and His will. Never assume that you have it all figured out. Stop looking to Scripture to prove that what you already believe is right; look to find out how you might be wrong.

Remember, the only way to get better answers is to ask better questions
